Bishop McKee Announces Changes To NTC Appointive Cabinet

Three districts to get a new superintendent when changes take effect July 1

PLANO – Bishop Michael McKee has announced changes in appointment that – effective July 1 – will affect three Cabinet positions

Openings in the North Central and East districts are the result of Rev. Dr. Ronald D. Henderson and Rev. Dr. Vic Casad, respectively, completing eight years of service in their districts.

"Dr. Ron Henderson and Dr. Vic Casad have been valued colleagues over the last eight years," Bishop McKee said. "Their wisdom and deep knowledge of the North Texas Conference has been beneficial to my work and the work of the Extended and Appointive cabinets. Each brought distinct understandings of the Christian faith and United Methodism. I have enjoyed working with them and am grateful to God for their witness and service."

Rev. Debra Hobbs Mason

- Rev. Debra Hobbs Mason, who has served as superintendent of the Metro District since July 2018, will become superintendent of the North Central District.
- Rev. Edlen Cowley, senior pastor at Fellowship UMC in Trophy Club since 2014, will succeed Rev. Hobbs Mason as Metro District superintendent.
- Rev. Cassie Wade, who has served as senior pastor at First UMC Decatur since 2019, will become superintendent of the East District.

Rev. Edlen Cowley

Rev. Cassie Wade

"Rev. Wade and Rev. Cowley bring unique skills and specialties to the work of the East and Metro districts and valuable experience that will be helpful not only to the Cabinet but also to the North Texas Conference," Bishop McKee said. "I am glad they will be joining the rest of the team and continue to serve our churches, clergy and laity. Please pray for them as they will be transitioning into their new roles."

FOX 29's Alex Holley inadvertently lands her grandpa a stay at Waldorf Astoria hotel in Rome

The 'Good Day Philadelphia co-host's efforts to keep her grandfather warm amid the Texas power outages led to a surprising gift

As Texas works to recover from February's deadly and debilitating winter storm, the grandfather of FOX 29's Alex Holley will be rewarded for plowing through it with a trip to Rome.

The "Good Day Philadelphia" co-host shared her grandfather's predicament in Texas in an Instagram post last week, explaining that she had arranged for him to stay at a hotel after his home lost heat and temperatures dipped into the single digits.

"My parents were so excited they told Grandpa I got them a room at the Waldorf Astoria LOL it's nowhere near that fancy but here they are pretending!!" Holly, an Irving, Texas native, wrote in the Instagram post, which included a heartwarming video of her grandfather and several other photos.

To make light of the situation, Holley's parents taped a sign to the hotel room door that read, "Waldorf Astoria," which is the flagship luxury brand of Hilton Worldwide.

In an update posted to Instagram on Wednesday night, Holley said the initial post got the attention of the Rome Cavalieri hotel, part of the Waldorf Astoria collection of hotels.

"Well, the actual Waldorf saw his videos and decided to give Grandpa a little room upgrade...in ITALY!!" Holley wrote. "Certainly a lot better than I could do lol."

In a surprise reaction video, Holley's grandpa learned that the hotel has offered him and a guest a complimentary three-night stay at the Italian hotel.

"Grandpa is so excited and can't wait to visit once it's safe!!!" Holley wrote.

This is the exact turn of events one might expect to see featured on Holley's new late night show on FOX 29, "The Feed AT Night," with co-host Thomas Drayton.

Grandpa Holley is in for a real treat down the line. The hotel includes an award-winning spa, three outdoor swimming pools and one indoor pool, and exclusive experiences on the property and in Rome, all of which will apparently be included in the package.

It's a happy outcome for Holley and her family, but the FOX 29 host is aware that Texans continue to suffer from the impact of the storm. More than 4 million people were left without heat and electricity at the peak of the emergency as the state's power grid buckled. Nearly 80 people have died as a result of the crisis.

"Thinking of all the millions of people across the state who still don't have power or water," Holley wrote. "Continuing to pray for y'all and my home state."
